One Eighty Business Solutions Opens as Premier Consulting Firm in Harrisonburg, Virginia

Singers Glen, VA, July 1, 2006 — Rick White, previously a management consultant with GenesisFour Corporation, opens One Eighty Business Solutions, LLC, a consulting company offering QuickBooks training & consulting, management training and business coaching & consulting to small and mid-sized companies in Shenandoah Valley area of Virginia.

Rick White has been consulting with small and medium sized business owners helping them to improve profits, increase revenue, motivate employees, increase productivity and most importantly – reclaim their lives! He works with businesses across the country by providing training and consulting online and over the telephone in a common sense, realistic approach to management. With One Eighty Business Solutions an owner can expect an immediate action plan after very quickly identifying their unique challenges and opportunities; and begin to see improvements in these areas. Most clients see substantive improvements within a matter of weeks.

In addition to management and business consulting, One Eighty Business Consulting offers training and consulting with all QuickBooks applications. As a QuickBooks ProAdvisor, Rick White can help you to setup your QuickBooks accounting and business packages as well help you to improve your usage of existing QuickBooks implementations. Each new QuickBooks client receives one hour worth of free consulting which is used to perform a preliminary analysis of current and potential financial performance.

“I am thrilled to be able to offer my consulting services at a reasonable rate right here in the heart of the Shenandoah Valley. It has been extremely rewarding to watch as companies not only achieve 15-25% improvements in the revenue and profit of their businesses – but to see them create a more productive and energized work environment. My clients now take vacations – and the business still thrives!!!”

One Eighty Business Solutions is a privately held limited liability corporation offering services not only to local businesses in the Shenandoah Valley area – but nationwide.
